ACKNOWLEDGE IT.

Pendleton Has to Bow to the Inevitable—Scores of Endorsements Prove It.

After reading the public statement of this fellow-sufferer given below, you must come to this conclusion: A remedy which proved so beneficial years ago, with the kidneys can naturally be expected to perform the same work in similar cases. Read this:

Mrs. Thomas Budge, 41912 Third street, La Grande, Oregon, says: "You may continue to use my recommendation of Doan's Kidney Pills, given in May, 1910. They are still used with the best of results in our household and we would not be without them. All kidney sufferers would do well to try Doan's Kidney Pills."

(Statement given October 10, 1911.) On May 20, 1910, Mrs. Budge said: "A member of our family has been using Doan's Kidney Pills at different times, when occasion has demanded and they have always done a great deal of good. He complained of backache, caused by the constant jolting and sometimes had to lay off from work. He thinks there is nothing equal to Doan's Kidney Pills for this trouble, for they relieve him every time he uses them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McIlburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

plays Guriela Khan, the servant, Miss Leah Baird, Miss Norma Talmadge and Adele de Garde also play important parts.

2. The Affair at Raynor's. Edison. This being the fourth story of "What Happened to Mary." Mary having become a stenographer learns of a fellow employee's plans to rob the firm. By her own bravery and daring she balks the criminal's plot and as a reward she is sent to Europe on an important mission. Miss Mary Fuller's portrayal of Mary is in her unusual charming manner.

3. In the Aisles of the World. Biograph. A widower and his two daughters live in the wilds of the north woods. They form the acquaintance of two trappers, Bob Cole and Jim Watson who hunt in the neighborhood. As fate will have it both trappers love the same girl—the elder girl, but she loves Bob, while the younger girl is attracted by Jim. The elder girl just to arouse Bob's jealousy, pays Jim marked attention. Bob cannot understand her motive and leaves, so through pique she marries Jim. Later Bob revisits the place feeling the girl loves him the best and tries to induce her to go away with him. He finally succeeds and as you may imagine fate brings about jealousy.

4. Max Fights a Duel. Pathe. Max, celebrated fun maker, is shown in another of his amusing playlets. His fiancée, ere she marries him, insists that he prove himself a hero by fighting a duel. He does, but how, see for your self.

5. The Valley of Chevreuse and the Vaux de Ciryway. Pathe. A travel film showing the charming scenes in one of the environs of Paris.

The Pastime.

The home of good pictures. Enjoyable program for Friday's change.

"Bunny All At Sea." Vitagraph.

This is the first of the eBunny abroad pictures, taken when the jovial funny man was on his way to England. It will make much laughter—there's no doubt of that. In the cast appears the captain of the Berlin, the boat-swain, the entire ship's band, several of the crew, some of the men cabin passengers and a quartet of woman passengers. As the comedy opens Bunny appears on deck of the ship, disconsolate as he observes what is being bestowed on the captain by the women and unconcern with which they gaze over his own head. He surreptitiously secures a uniform coat and cap from the captain's cabin and dons them. His fortunes change. He strolls up the deck with a woman on each arm. The captain has Bunny arrested, sentences him to menial servitude. His efforts create many a laugh until he is restored to his place among the passengers.

"The Foundling." Edison by Harry Furniss. With the famous cartoonist playing a prominent part, this story of a rivalry for the presidency of a club and the incidental winning of a vicar's daughter will prove of great interest.

"The Old Chess Player." Lubin. Brand, a cobbler, and Julius Stern, a pawn broker, are dear friends, and every evening enjoy a game of chess. Stern's boy is courting Dora Brand and all goes well until the old men fall out over a move on the board and quarrel and the lovers are separated, declaring the engagement off. However, in time love finds a way.

"The Virva Canal and Shooting the Rapids at Katsuragawa, Japan." Selig. An excellent offering. The first item is a travelogue of unusual interest. The second item, shooting rapids in row boats, is a thrilling picture.

"Getting Atmosphere." Selig. One of those very unique comedies for which Selig is famous.

Cosy.

Friday and Saturday, King Baggett and Jan Fernley in the strong political drama in two reels.

"John Sterling, Alderman." Imp. This exciting picture gives us a truthful and vivid insight into the practices of franchise grabbing corporations. A very dramatic situation develops when John Sterling, who has worked himself up from the very lowest rungs of the ladder, shows an alderman a disposition to give the people a square deal. For when the franchise grabbers find that he, and he alone, is blocking their scheme, they try to bribe him and failing in this, they resort to underhand tricks to ruin him. The struggle is tense; it most decidedly keeps us in suspense; but works out to a very pleasing denouement. Miss Fernley as the alderman's wife and little Edith Hallahan as their child gives the production a most engaging atmosphere of home life, for it is their encouragement that gives him the moral strength to fight it out to victory. We can commend this as a splendid production.

"His Only Son." Nestor. A genuinely interesting drama of the west, commendable for the naturalness of its story and for some novel touches of humor. The principal roles, those of father and son, are vigorously handled from the time of their dispute until the end when they are reconciled through some exciting experiences with a band of outlaws.

"The Lucky Loser." Eclair Americana. The girl promised that the one of her lovers who won a certain race would win a wife. The lucky loser, losing the race through the foul play of his rivals, nevertheless wins the girl. His speedy and the end is both unexpected and funny. Some sensational and exciting events in next Sunday's "Animated Weekly."

"It is a pleasure to tell you that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best cough medicine I have ever used," writes Mrs. Hugh Campbell of Lavonia, Ga. "I have used it with all my children and the results have been highly satisfactory." For sale by all dealers.

Is your husband cross? An irritable, fault finding disposition is often due to a disordered stomach. A man with good digestion is nearly always good natured. A great many have been permanently cured of stomach trouble by taking Chamberlain's Tablets. For sale by all dealers.

MRS. ADAMS COMES TO OREGON THEATRE

Playrights for the past few years have found the political theme the most interesting and popular one on which to build a successful drama and when one was written that "got over" it has been the greatest box office winner. The leaders of such plays have been "The Lion and the Mouse," "The Gambler," "The Man of the Hour," "The Third Degree" etc., but there is one on the road this season that is making them all "take the count" when it comes to popularity, intensity of action, interest and truthfulness in portraying the inside of the political ring. The name of the play is "The Butler's Secret" in which Mrs. Annie Adams is starring the present season. It was written by James Lattimore Himrod, a newspaper man and old time politician and he gives some interesting inside information. It is strong in love, devotion and willing sacrifice to ideals, but that money and influence have their effect. In the present stirring political times, the play is doubly interesting. It is a wonderfully gripping story intensely told and powerfully acted by Mrs. Adams and her supporting company.

Mrs. Adams, who is the mother of America's greatest artist, Miss Maud Adams, chose "The Butler's Secret" as her starring vehicle after careful perusal of more than a score of manuscripts that had been offered her, as it is a play of the times, deftly told and gives the country what it wants. The management have given the piece a beautiful scenic production and Mrs. Adams, whose formula for good health is hard work, has personally superintended every detail

Baby's Voice

Every woman's heart responds to the charm and sweetness of a baby's voice, because nature intended her for motherhood. But even the loving nature of a mother shrinks from the ordeal because such a time is usually a period of suffering and danger. Women who use Mother's Friend are saved much discomfort and suffering, and their systems, being thoroughly prepared by this great remedy, are in a healthy condition to meet the time with the least possible suffering and danger. Mother's Friend is recommended only for the relief and comfort of expectant mothers; it is in no sense a remedy for various ills, but its many years of success, and the thousands of endorsements received from women who have used it are a guarantee of the benefit to be derived from its use. This remedy does not accomplish wonders but simply assists nature to perfect its work. Mother's Friend allays nausea, prevents caking of the breasts, and in every way contributes to strong, healthy motherhood. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. ## GRANDMOTHERS USED SAGE TEA

To Darken the Hair and Restore Gray and Faded Hair to Its Natural Color.

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair and are fast following suit. The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready-to-use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. As a scalp tonic and color restorer this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers. The growth and beauty of the hair depends on a healthy condition of the scalp. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy quickly kills the dandruff germs which rob the hair of its life, color and lustre, makes the scalp clean and healthy, gives the hair strength, color and beauty, and makes it grow.
